Oro Valley Thrives ceases participation in recall effort;
Kicks off new campaign “Create the Community You Want to Live In”

Oro Valley Thrives moves on to next initiative after the selection of internal candidate, Commander Kara Riley, as the next Oro Valley Chief of Police and the favorable resolution of the town golf course and community center uncertainty.

ORO VALLEY, AZ, February 4, 2020 – Oro Valley Thrives is pleased to announce that, upon resolution of the two major community issues (the municipal golf course and the police chief selection process) it will no longer be participating in the recall effort.

Oro Valley Thrives is very excited to continue its mission of bringing citizens together to keep Oro Valley a vibrant, thriving, fun community. The group’s next campaign is “Create the Community You Want To Live In.”

Oro Valley Thrives is happy to spotlight Project Graduation and be one of the sponsors for the Oro Valley Cup which takes place this Friday, February 7th, at Oro Valley’s El Conquistador Golf and Tennis. The Oro Valley Cup serves as the primary fundraiser for the amazing work that Project Grad does to ensure a safe graduation night for high school seniors.
